					Key
Induction	Induction week Across the week there will be a mixture of essential face-to-face programme information sessions and some social sessions enabling you to get to know your peers and all about the wider university.		Theory Each pink week denotes a week of theoretical learning. You can expect to have face-to-face campus based learning each Monday & Friday and directed study to complete on the other days.	SPL	Simulated Practice Learning A mix of campus based and online learning. You can expect to have face-to-face activity to complete each day.	Assessments	Assessment weeks are when you submit your theory assessments. There are usually two assessments due during these weeks. Expect that for some assessments you will have to attend campus.		This is a final opportunity for those who did not complete their theory assessments at the first opportunity, to submit them.
	The University closes for Christmas. You will not have any teaching and learning to engage with during this time.	Practice	Practice. This is the period of time you are expected to attend your allocated practice placement. You will be expected to attend shifts across the 24 hour 7 day week continuum.	¥	The University closes for the long Easter weekend. You will not have any teaching and learning to engage with during this time.	PA	Practice Assessment. This is when your summative assessment of performance in practice should be completed by.	Transition	You can expect to have face-to-face campus based learning and directed study to complete across the week.
