

Tuition Fees: Policy Statement

Edge Hill University has a consistent and transparent policy in respect of tuition fees. This policy details the responsibilities of the University and of students regarding tuition fees relating to all programmes of study within the University. It has been developed to enable students to make properly informed decisions and aims to assist students in the payment of fees.

Tuition fees are subject to annual review to ensure they reflect student support funding, are competitively placed and meet inflationary costs of resourcing. In line with its Mission, the University makes provision to ensure that operation of the Tuition Fee Regulations and associated financial support schemes is fair and encourages access to all those with the ability to benefit from study here.

The University is committed to ensuring information on fees is readily available and publishes fee information each year in advance of the application cycle for the following academic session. Applicants may view an indication of likely fee levels from the University's prospectus and website and can expect to receive detailed information about fees, and view arrangements for payment, when they are offered a place to study.

Students are responsible for the prompt payment of fees. Defaults on payment are treated seriously and will lead to the application of sanctions in accordance with the University's Student Debt Policy (Appendix 10).

The University ensures transparent compliance with all applicable statutory requirements, including Competitions and Markets Authority (CMA), Office for Fair Access (OFFA) and Student Loans Company (SLC).
